

Dancing in the city

If you're a stranger here
And you need some action
We have a remedy
That could really catch on

Pleased to see another face
At light-up time
If feeling dull and run-down
We can really make you shine.

Dancin' in the city
Alleys that we run through
Now we've just begun to
Have fun tonight.

Dancin' in the city
Alleys that we run through
Now we've just begun to
Have fun tonight.

Can you feel the darkness call
Let the streets have their way
They'll carry you on 'til morning
And steal your soul away. (away-way)

Dancin' in the city
Alleys that we run through
Now we've just begun to
Have fun tonight.

Dancin' in the city (Dancin' in the city)
Alleys that we run through (Dancin' in the city)
Now we've just begun to
Have fun tonight.

Dancin' in the city (Dancin' in the city)
Alleys that we run through (Dancin' in the city)
Now we've just begun to
Have fun tonight.

Dancin' in the city (Dancin' in the city)
Alleys that we run through (Dancin' in the city)
Now we've just begun to
Have fun tonight.

Marshall Hain

God is in the city

We are all strangers here who need some comfort,
in search for something there,
our home and safe port.

We came from spirit realms
but all our memories
about the former times
had to be wiped out

God is in the city,
constantly inviting you to be a child in
His godly grace.

God is in the city,
patiently waiting,
lovingly baiting
you with His love.

Even if darkness reigns
in streets and houses,
there is a bright new morning
if you come to Jesus! (oh come, come!)

God is in the city,
He wants to remind us
of the love and kindness
He has for us.

God is in the city, (God is in the city)
can you ever think of (God is in the city) anyone with more love than Jesus Christ?

God is in the city, (God is in the city)
constantly inviting (God is in the city)
you to be a child in
His godly grace.

God is in the city, (God is in the city)
patiently waiting, (God is in the city)
lovingly baiting
you with His love.

